Locals and Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Byron W. Gray spent Sunday here with Miss Brundage and Miss Curran.

Miss Doris Leviston left Tuesday for San Francisco where she will enter business college.

Mr. Bersinger, of San Juan, was an over-Sunday visitor at the home of his daughter, Mrs. R. G. Archibald.

W. T. and Elwood Sturtevant were up to the Colusa county slough hunting ducks and geese, and report a good bag.

Mrs. Earl Brown is down from San Francisco this week, the guest of her friends, Mrs. Claude Gard and Mrs. W. C. Bohnett.

Professors Halamicek and Kalas have each purchased new Ford sedans to use in connection with their many musical engagements thruout the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. George Harlan returned to their ranch at Lucia Sunday, after spending three weeks here with Mrs. Harlan's mother, Mrs. Lucy Smith, and family.

The social dance given by the young people of Johnson avenue last Saturday evening at Union was a most enjoyable affair. They may hold a similar performance later in the year.

When you give a person credit, that's an accommodation; when you send him a statement and he pays no attention to it, that is an insult to you; when he fails to pay his bills, that's crooked.

Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Archibald, who had spent a month at Capitola, were guests of his brother, Mr. H. V. Archibald, and wife, last week, on their return to their home in Fresno.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Bryant, who are now living on a ranch near Los Altos, were in Campbell Monday. Their property here on Sunnyside was sold some time ago to Mr. and Mrs. Dent, who are now residing there.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McDevitt, of San Francisco, and Miss Louisa Simpson, of San Jose, are guests of T. J. and Mrs. Henderson, of Dry Creek road, on a touring trip through southern California. They expect to be gone about a month.

Messrs. and Mesdames Geo. Phelps I. M. Doolittle, G. W. Smith and Mrs. E. L. Underwood and J. E. Doolittle are enjoying a motor trip this week, going to La Honda, down the coast to Santa Cruz, on to Watsonville and home.

Rev. W. E. Eckles has decided to resume work in the ministry, and has accepted a call to the Congregational church at Sunnyvale. The many friends of Rev. and Mrs. Eckles will be pleased to have them located in our county where occasionally we will come in touch.

T. J. Henderson is proudly exhibiting a Victorian medal which he found in his cellar last week. This was issued to his father for service rendered the Canadian government at the time of the Fenian raid in 1866, while a member of the 22nd regiment provincial troops. The medal is silver, stamped with "Pvt. E. H. Henderson" and suitable inscription of the occasion.

Morgan-Bohnett

Miss Violet Morgan and Mr. F. O. Bohnett were quietly married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Morgan, in San Jose, Saturday morning. The Rev. G. E. Atkinson read the ceremony in the presence of the four parents and the bride's sister.

Immediately following the ceremony the happy couple started on a combined business and pleasure trip to Los Angeles, to be gone about two weeks. Both bride and groom have a wide circle of friends wishing them all joy.

On their return they will live at Orange Grove Farm.

J. C. Ainsley in New Corporation

A new corporation in which a local man figures as one of the directors, has filed articles of corporation with the county clerk. The concern, to be known as The Security Warehouse and Cold Storage Company, has a capital stock of $500,000 and will conduct a complete storage and warehouse business, including the manufacture of ice. Its plant will be located near the Southern Pacific tracks in San Jose. The directors named are J. C. Ainsley, E. E. Chase, G. N. Herbert, F. A. Wilder, H. T. Pyle

School Building to Be Sold

The meeting at the Grammar school Friday evening could not be called a "mass" meeting, in a literal sense of the word, as the attendance was rather limited.

However, the utmost unanimity of opinion prevailed, and the trustees were authorized to advertise for bids for the sale of the building.

Altho the number present was small, those who were present felt justified in assuming that there was no pronounced opposition, for that side of a question, t here is such, is usually well represented.

Auction Sale of School Lands

A sale of school lands at public auction in the counties of Madera, Fresno, Kern and Tulare, will be held by W. S. Kingsbury, State Surveyor General, at the court houses in said counties in November. The Surveyor General reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

The land in Madera county will be offered for sale at the Court House in the City of Madera on November 18th; that in Fresno county at the Court House in the City of Fresno on November 19th; that in Tulare county at the Court House in the City of Visalia on November 21st and that in Kern county at the Court House in the City of Bakersfield on November 24th, at the hour of nine o'clock, a. m.

Madera county contains 1440 acres; Fresno county 4680 acres; Tulare county 2070 acres and Kern county 14,315 acres of vacant school land.

One hundred twenty acres of the land in Tulare county contains immense deposits of lime suitable for use in the manufacture of cement.

For a list of the vacant school lands and information relative thereto, address the Surveyor General, Sacramento, Cal.

School Movie to Be Demonstrated

The "China Shower" proved quite an attraction Tuesday, as a goodly number of ladies gathered at the Grammar school, that, and the desire to hear of the health center plan.

The matter of chief moment was the report of the committee in regard to the Movie Machine. Things have progressed to the point where a man will be here this Friday night to give a demonstration of a machine. The entertainment will be well worth while, the "Campbell School of Music" having graciously offered to furnish music, only stipulating that there be perfect order. An admission of 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for children of grammar school age will be charged, the money to start a fund for the purchase of some machine.

Mrs. Philbrick's talk on the work of the Good Cheer Health Center and its branches and the advantages to a community of keeping its people well, was most enlightening and convincing. A committee was appointed to feel out the ground in regard to having a visiting nurse here for a couple of days a week.

The social hour opened with a vocal solo by Mrs. Edith Copeland Brown, with violin obligato by Mr. W. C. Bohnett and piano accompaniment by Mrs. Emily P. Gard. The china shower was given in the form of a march, the music played by Mrs. Brown, and the dishes being left on the table. The committee in charge of refreshments served tea and cakes, and a pleasant hour was enjoyed.

For Sale--Rabbit hutches, nest boxes and other equipment. Also a quantity of chicken wire.

Good Coffee and Cheap

Storekeeper, pausing with reflection finger over typewriter keys, remembers that a lady said today, "I think your 40-cent coffee is VERY good." If that be true, thinks the Storekeeper, perhaps it's a good time for the fact to be advertised.

Yes, our 40-cent IS good. Also, our 45-cent coffee is a great deal better.; but more of this anon.

Why should our coffee be extra good? Well, it's freshly roasted, which is the most important factor in giving the customer all the coffee's virtues. Ours is roasted the day we buy it for you. Storekeeper stood, last time, and watched the brown berries cool in the big iron roasting-pan; watched, too, while the cooled berries were whisked into an air-shaft and up near the ceiling and down thru a shute—that was all for cleanliness; then he toted the warm, fragrant sack out to his "bus," and on home to his own coffee-bin. Couldn't be fresher, could it?

Anon? Yes, the 40-cent kind is good—we've been surprised, really, that in these times, a comparatively low-priced coffee, like this, could be so satisfactory. But the 45-cent grade is more than 5c a pound better; so says the man of whom we buy, the man who blends both grades. The difference, he says, is in the "body," the "richness" and the "cupping qualities"—terms best understood by the coffee-man, doubtless, but they are suggestive words, and calculated to make one hungry.

Lastly, by using the word "cheap" in the heading of this, we mean cheap for the days of H. C. L. The spread between the cost to you and to us is very small. No profiteering here! Either grade, then—40c or 45c—you are the boss.

MT. DIABLO CEMENT SANTA CRUZ LIME

People Clung to Old Custom.

Pope Galesius stopped the last of the pagan orgies still associated with St. Valentine's day in 496 A. D. Toward the end of the sixteenth century St. Francis de Sales set himself sternly to purge the saint's day, even of its lovemaking notes, valentines and frivolities. For the names of the opposite sex drawn as "sweethearts ordained by fate for the coming year" he substituted the name of the martyr himself and others, and pious mottoes replaced the amorous doggerel. But, as in the past, he found the populace refused to give up their mate choosing and merrymaking. So, after almost fifteen centuries, St. Valentine still presides as the patron saint of springtime and mating, as did Juno and Pan for centuries before him.

Long an Annual Festival.

The history of good St. Valentine is of interest, and while in the year 1919 his devotees content themselves with sending postcard greetings or lace-paper concoctions decorated with scantily clothed cupids, armed with bows and arrows, for time immemorial the middle of February has been the date of a similar annual festival, a fete connected with the feasts of Juno Februarta and Pan, the coming of spring, and the time of the year in which the birds and men are supposed to choose mates.

BOY SCOUTS

(Conducted by National Council of the Boy Scouts of America.)

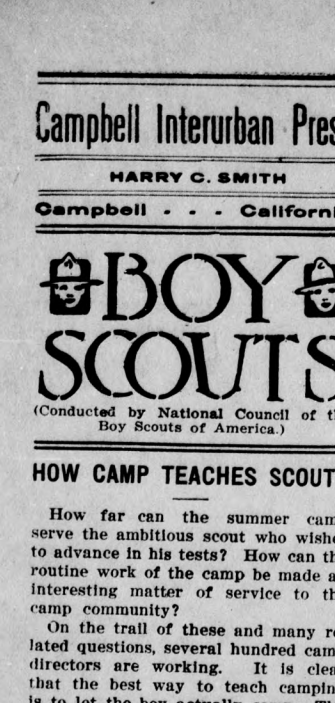
HOW CAMP TEACHES SCOUTS

How far can the summer camp serve the ambitious scout who wishes to advance in his tests? How can the routine work of the camp be made an interesting matter of service to the camp community?

On the trail of these and many related questions, several hundred camp directors are working. It is clear that the best way to teach camping is to let the boy actually camp. The presence or proximity of an experienced camper will help him to learn the best way more readily, and with less hazard, but the way itself is that of the apprentice rather than the book student. The habit of self-reliance and of common sense can best be developed in a camp where instruction is combined with hours and days that throw the boys on their own resources.

It should be the wish of every boy to become a proficient camper while passing his scout grades and merit badges. The enthusiasm of many boys will lead them to endure lectures and book work to a certain extent, but such enthusiasm feeds upon the chance to do some part of the necessary work of a community as well as it can be done, whether it be for a patrol, a troop, or a council.

MAKING THE RIGHT SIGN.



Boy Scouts Have Signs With Their Fingers. Here Is One Undergoing Test.

SCOUTS HELP TO FIND JOBS.

Another task which Boy Scouts were recently asked by the government to attempt was the distribution of posters relating to the problem of getting jobs for soldiers.

The war department provided national headquarters with a list of forty or more cities in which the situation was so serious as to require special propaganda effort. In every one of these cities there was a first-class scout council and through the scout executive of these local organizations the work was carried out in each community with dispatch and efficiency.

Again Boy Scouts were proud and eager to lend a hand. Evidently there is still plenty of war work to be done, even though the treaty has been signed and peace declared. This is as it should be. Scouting wishes to help Uncle Sam put through some of his numerous big tasks which concern his "boys."

SCOUTING AND CIGARETTES.

John M. Phillips, member of the national scout council and a scout commissioner for Allegheny county, Pennsylvania, has this to say regarding cigarette smoking:

"From personal observation I find that we have very little smoking among our Allegheny county scouts, and while we have not prohibited it we impress upon the scout the fact that to be 'physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight,' he cannot abuse his body by using tobacco in any form. I have stopped a lot of scouts from smoking cigarettes by telling them that if I wanted to stunt a pup I would feed him tobacco juice."

Mr. Phillips is getting splendid results from his "stunted pup."

Must Pay Death Penalty.

FIFTY PER CENT OF FAMILIES IN U. S. IMPROPERLY NOURISHED

Less Than $17.00 of Yearly Family Income Is Average Amount Left for Educational and Uplift Work.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics of the U. S. Department of Labor, in its country-wide investigation of the cost of living in 1918-1919, secured itemized budgets from approximately 13,000 families. Special intensive studies of each of the major items of expense in the family budget have been, or are, being made. Considerable data showing the relationship between the family budget and the health of the family are already available.

Detailed dietary analysis of the food of 983 families, selected at random from 11 representative cities, indicates that 21.2 per cent of these families purchase less than 2500 calories of food per man per day; 49 per cent of these families less than 3000 calories, and 74.5 per cent less than 3500 calories. Allowing for considerable variation from the recognized standard of 3500 calories purchased per man per day, these figures point to the fact that approximately 20 per cent of the families are purchasing food entirely insufficient for the maintenance of health, 30 per cent are on the border line between sufficient and insufficient nourishment, and 50 per cent are in all probability well nourished.

A study of the total yearly income in relation to the food budget also bears out these conclusions; 44.6 per cent of the total number of white families included in the investigation were receiving annual incomes of $1500 or more, and were probably getting an adequate and reasonably balanced diet; 22.7 per cent of the families were receiving annual incomes of less than $1200, which is wholly inadequate to permit of the purchase of sufficient food for a family of average size, leaving 32.7 per cent of the families in the income group of $1200 to $1500, where the food necessary for an average family would be subject to serious curtailment.

A sufficient number of calories, however, does not necessarily mean a well balanced ration. Many of the dietaries in which 3500 calories were purchased, were seriously deficient in milk, eggs, green vegetables, and fruit.

During the past two years, clothing purchases have been cut drastically. A careful study of the clothing budgets of 641 families having children under 15 years of age, and living in Northern cities, shows an average yearly expenditure of $68.33 for the clothing of the husband, and $55.75 for the wife. In Southern cities, the average for 207 families, similarly chosen, shows $75.69 for the husband and $62.08 for the wife. While the clothes purchased for these sums may be sufficient to keep the wearers warm, it is certain that decency and health cannot be maintained on such a small outlay for clothing.

Judged by the standard that overcrowding begins when there is more than one person per room, a considerable proportion of the families included in this investigation must be classed as overcrowded. A study has been made of 2455 families living in rented houses in 24 different cities. Fifty per cent of these had less than one room per person, 17 per cent had less than 0.7 of a room per person, and 3 per cent less than 0.5 of a room per person. Very little information was gathered which will give conclusions as to housing conditions from a sanitary standpoint. In New Orleans, however, 31 per cent of the 147 white families included in the investigation lived in houses without bath rooms, and 90 per cent of the 102 colored families.

Miscellaneous items which include expenditures for care of health, education, amusements, insurance premiums and numerous other items of a miscellaneous nature, comprise from 17 to 24 per cent of the family budget.

Detailed data on miscellaneous expenses for 30 representative cities have been compiled. In these various cities the yearly expenditure per family for health, which includes doctor, dentist, hospital, oculist, medicines, ranged from an average of $31.27 to $92.77, the mean being approximately $58.

The corresponding figure on amusements, which includes movies, plays, concerts, excursions and vacations, ranged from an average of $9.95 to $35.59 per year per family, with a mean of between $17 and $18.

The average yearly expenditure per family for education and uplift, which includes newspapers, magazines, books, school tuition and music, ranged from $8.87 to $27.57, the mean being approximately $17.

None of these averages would seem to depict extravagance on the part of the workingman's family along the lines of medical attention, recreation, or self-development. Especially do some of the family averages appear meagre when taken in connection with the average number of persons per family, which for white families is 4.9 persons.

At the present salaries paid, families must necessarily be reduced to one-half in order that they receive the proper amount of clothes, nourishment, education and uplift.

U. S. LEADS WORLD WITH IMPORTS INTO BRAZIL

Rio De Janeiro.—Imports into Brazil from the United States in the first six months of 1919 were four times greater than those from Great Britain, the nearest competing country, according to the American Chamber of Commerce for Brazil.

Mrs. Wilcox was in her 64th year and was a native of Johnstown Center, Wis.

MAYOR'S WIFE SLAPS KING'S OFFICIAL GUIDE

Los Angeles.—That J. M. ("Bill") Nye, representative of the state department with the royal Belgians en tour in America, returned to Washington not alone with the maledictions of certain prominent Southern Californians but with a smarting cheek, became known here recently. Mrs. Meredith P. Snyder, wife of Los Angeles' mayor, disclosed how she had administered a resounding slap on Nye's face during the visit of the king and the queen here.

"He was too smart," Mrs. Snyder explained.

"Get a hustle on you and get out," was the manner in which Nye was said to have addressed the first lady of Los Angeles. And when he emphasized his words by grasping her roughly by the arm, she let him have a right jab with the open hand.

The episode took place when the royal party was changing automobiles for a tour of the city.

Making Money and Thrift

Sheer lack of thrift has caused more financial failures than anything else. How many men there are today who might have become wealthy had they only known how to save money! During the course of their careers they have earned large sums, but these have slipped from their fingers from day to day. They had the natural gift of making money, just as their successful rivals, but they lacked the quality of permanent success—which is thrift.

Although the ability to make money is, to a considerable extent, a matter of natural aptitude, the still more important accomplishments of thrift can be acquired by anyone. There is no excuse for not saving money.

Thriftlessness is an indication of weakness. It is indecision of character.

Thrift requires steadfastness, and the marshaling of the last ounce of moral strength that we possess. But it does not require any special genius or brilliant gift of mind.

It is within the power of every man and woman to thrive through the cultivation of prudent habits. Practices of thrift do not bring a guarantee of great wealth. But they are an absolute assurance of modest success and a never-failing protection against complete failure and poverty.

The primary value of thrift lies in the fact that through it we secure full advantage of the little things.

Those who are thriftless in money matters do not, as a rule, dissipate their resources in large amounts. The processes of waste are going on constantly, however, in the way of unnecessary or ill-advised spending.

On the other hand thrift consists of saving by small degrees.

A point often overlooked is that a few years of thrifty habits will place one in a financial position where he can enjoy many of life's wholesome pleasures, whereas continual thriftlessness yields only inadequate and superficial pleasure.—S. W. Straus in Thrift Magazine.

About Poultry Feeding

The high prices of grain this past year have caused many poultry people to try different feeds and feeding from what might be called standard feeding.

From reports reaching the Pennsylvania department of agriculture and the observations of the poultry experts in its employ, these experiments in new or abbreviated feeding have mostly been a failure and have resulted in much poultry having made an unprofitable growth and being puny and stunted.

A notable exception is the feeding of boiled oats, which feed, previously used by only a few poultry keepers, has become very popular, particularly among the larger poultry keepers having much feeding to do.

Boiled oats are greedily eaten by chickens of all ages; make a good growing and a good laying feed and in results obtained or obtainable are proving to be the cheapest food that has been available the last six months.

Boiled oats have largely, too, superseded the sprouted oats so much exploited a few years ago, as they are safer, a better and a less fussy feed.

To prepare, soak good, heavy oats 12 hours or more (in hot weather or a warm room a fresh lot should be soaked daily), dissolve one tablespoonful of salt in each bucket of water used for this; boil two or three hours and so gauge the amount of water used for soaking that at the finish the water is boiled away. Feed warm, but not hot. White Leghorn pullets can have these boiled oats twice daily, say, at 10 a. m. and 4. p. m., and all they will eat up clean. For old hens or heavyweight pullets, one feed a day is enough, and not too much at that, lest they become too fat on this much-liked feed.

To save automobile tires when a car is standing in a garage a jack has been invented that automatically lifts the car clear of the floor when run over it.

The Siamese musical scale is an equal division of the octave into seven parts and music never is written, but learned by ear and handed down traditionally.

Tartar on Teeth May be Cause of Many Diseases

Where tartar is allowed to grow undisturbed it eventually covers the teeth and forces the gum from around them. The gums become spongy and bleed freely when brushed. In advanced stages pus pours out from around the roots of the teeth into the mouth and is swallowed into the stomach, causing many diseases. Keep your teeth clean if you wish to be healthy. Watch 'em! Your eyes can greatly assist in this work.

Central Longitudinal Line of the United States Runs Through State of Kansas

Discussing the frequently used term "middle West," an American writer remarks that the territory so designated might more reasonably be called the "middle East." The central longitudinal line of the United States passes through Kansas not far from Topeka. On one side of the line, geographically speaking, lies the true West; on the other the true East, and the eastern side includes what is ordinarily called the "middle West," whereas the geographical "middle West" would cover the region of the Rocky mountains. The expression originated on the eastern seaboard, just when or how it would perhaps be difficult to discover, and seems in the beginning to have been a patronizing phrase indicating that, compared with the older cultural condition of the states bordering the Atlantic, the nearer states toward the west were well-meaning but somewhat backward, although nothing like so lacking in the amenities as those younger states which were growing up still nearer the sunset. The idea has vanished with the development of the nation, and the term remains as a convenient but rather indefinite way of referring to what many people think is really a geographical division of the country.

Why the Tree Leaves Turn Red When Chilly Autumn Days Return

An examination of the withered leaves of the autumn foliage at the time of their turning red shows that they contain more sugar and less starch than in midsummer. Leaves of evergreens, however, lose their red tints with the return of the warm season, and reassume their green color. In these plants—i. e., the holly and ivy—the sugar of the leaf is transformed into starch in springtime. From these observations two inferences can be drawn—first, that the red coloring substances are probably of the nature of the glucoses, being in most cases compounds of tannic substances with sugar; second, the chief physical conditions for the formation of the red color are sunshine, which, on the one hand, enhances the assimilation and production of sugar, and, on the other hand, quickens the chemical process that leads to the formation of the coloring matter, and, furthermore, a low temperature, which prevents the transformation of the sugar into starch. In other words, the red tints of autumn are the direct product of the meteorological conditions prevailing during that season—i. e., sunshine and low temperature.

Fate of American Indian, Now Slowly Disappearing

There is, in the fate of the Indian, much to awaken our sympathy, and much to disturb the sobriety of our judgment; much which may be urged to excuse their own atrocities; much in their characters which betrays us into an involuntary admiration. What can be more melancholy than their history? By a law of their nature, they seem destined to a slow, but sure extinction. Everywhere, at the approach of the white man, they fade away. We hear the rustling of their footsteps, like that of the withered leaves of autumn, and they are gone forever.—Joseph Story.

Recreation, as Well as Relaxation, Is Necessary to the Happiness of All

We need breathing spells in life's bigger issues just as we need them in out routine work. No one may work continuously without some period of relaxation, and in the same way no one may bear up under heavy responsibilities unless he is able at times to forget them, observes the Charleston News and Courier. That is why recreation as well as relaxation is necessary to the happiness of us all. There is something within us, something that calls to us, as it were, in no uncertain tones to lay down our problems occasionally and try to divert our minds from them. If we are forced to live with those big crushing responsibilities, that weigh us down at every turn, that are never far away from us, that keep step with us in our daily walk, we shall miss much of the better, brighter part of life. Every one has the right to live his own life in the way which he thinks will be best for him, and it is a hard blow of fate which robs him of that right. Yet this is done more often in life than we realize, and one of the worst of our disappointments is to be forced to surrender the privilege of controlling our own lives as far as it is in our human power to do so. Because certain responsibilities are forced upon us we are often compelled to abandon the road which stretches so invitingly ahead and to seek another path, rough and hard to walk upon, full of obstacles and barren of those things that perhaps have meant the very wine of life to us.

A FEW SMILES

Not a Chance.

Jones—Just a tip about Brown—he intends getting a car from you—and he'll never pay.

Auto Agent—What shall I say when he calls?

Jones—Just tell him the truth about your car—anything to keep him from buying.

The Way of It.

"It was very unlike the majority of business men the way Ananias got into trouble."

"How was it?"

"Through both his assets and his lie-abilities."

The Cause.

"What makes Stiffins such a queer lead color?"

"I guess it is the plumbago his wife says he has in his back."

His Way.

"Did the foreign nobleman you were speaking of travel in this country incognito?"

"No, he traveled in a Pullman."

Tickled to Death.

"Do you think your father will consent to our marriage?"

"Wait until the bills for this month come in and then I am sure he will be glad to have you take me off his hands."

One Instant.

"I never saw such a lazy fellow. I gave him such a talking to that I scared him nearly to death."

"He is not all lazy. I noticed while you were talking that his face was working."

Britain's Prime Minister Is Nominated by Sovereign and Organizes Government

The premier, or prime minister of Great Britain, is nominated by the reigning sovereign. The king sends in the name of the leader of the party just successful at the polls and to that extent the appointment is dictated by the vote of the people. The sovereign appoints the prime minister to form a cabinet and organize the government. The appointment of premier does not have to be confirmed by parliament, but no prime minister could carry on the government of the country for any length of time who did not possess the confidence of the house of commons. He selects his colleagues or other members of the cabinet, and his resignation dissolves the ministry.

Japan Has Taken Steps to Encourage Sheep Raising.

Japan was verging on a wool famine during the recent war, and as a result of this condition the country has taken steps to encourage sheep raising. The government of Chosen recently incorporated the sum of $56,000 in the budget for the fiscal year of 1919 to be used in encouraging this industry.

In These Servantless Days.

The head of one house where war conditions had left the place helpless drove his daughter to a party.

The head of the house where the party was held was perforce acting as his own carriage man and door-opener.

Afterward, when they were formally presented, one said:

"I certainly must beg your pardon for something, sir."

"What is it?"

"You know that night when you drove your daughter to my daughter's party?"

"Yes."

"Well, when I came to open the door I thought you were your chauffeur."

"Cheer up! I thought you were your butler!"—Farm Life, England.

Plunder.

The gentleman burglar flashed his lamp in the startled eyes of the aroused head of the family.

"Where's your valuables?" he demanded, politely.

"For heaven's sake, don't shoot!" pleaded the victim. "My jewels are in that box on the bureau; my money is in the handbag on the dresser; my husband's watch—"

Impatiently shooting a hole in the pillow, the burglar snapped:

"Don't kid me! I asked you where you keep your butter and eggs!"

But with a shriek of desperation the woman leaped upon him, for that was too much, too utterly much!—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

9000 S. F. RESIDENTS LIABLE TO DRY PROSECUTION

San Francisco.—Over 9000 residents of San Francisco, principally members of the Italian colony, have been certified by Collector of Internal Revenue Justus S. Wardell to the United States District Attorney for prosecution for violations of the war-time prohibition law, it has been announced at the collector's office. The violations consist in filing declarations of intention to make wine, which is regarded as prima facie evidence. It is also said that the majority of the declarents have actually made wine, taking their chances of prosecution.

It was rumored at the collector's office, however, that no prosecutions would result, except in cases where the wine may be made after the passage of the prohibition enforcement law, which should become effective not later than next Tuesday. As the law now stands the enforcement of the prohibition law is in the hands of the Department of Justice. No statement could be obtained from United States District Attorney Annette Adams as to the course which would be pursued.

With the Fingers! Says Corns Lift Out Without Any Pain

You reckless men and women who are pestered with corns and who have at least once a week invited an awful death from lockjaw or blood poison are now told by a Cincinnati authority to use a drug called freezone, which the moment a few drops are applied to any corn or callus the soreness is relieved and soon the entire corn or callus, root and all, lifts off with the fingers.

Freezone dries the moment it is applied, and simply shrivels the corn or callus without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. A small bottle of freezone will cost very little at any of the drug stores, but will positively rid one's feet of every hard or soft carn or hardened callus. If your druggist hasn't any freezone he can get it at any wholesale drug house for you.—Adv.

Stanford University.—So popular was the aerial taxi started here by Valdo Brazil, a former Stanford student, that flights have been dated for a week in advance. Brazil, who left the university to enter the aviation service, conceived the idea of providing a quick means of transportation for the students. He arrived here from Monterey, which is his home, bringing with him Phil Salterbach and Hugh Coleman, also former students, who will assist him in the transportation business. Brazil is provided with a late model Curtiss plane, owned by the Pathfinder Company.

PRICES FALL IN PARIS AFTER FOOD RAIDS

Paris.—The raids of the "high cost of living police" on one of the largest department stores of Paris and the numerous summonses to appear before the courts which have been delivered to the staff of the store, ranging from managers of departments, stockholders and directors to mere clerks, has had a salutary effect on the prices in the other big stores of Paris. In some cases the prices have been reduced 40 per cent.

U. S. TAKES 25,000 FURS FROM NORTH

Seattle.—Over 25,000 sealskins, taken by the United States government from the Pribilof Islands, near Alaska, will be sold at the St. Louis fur market this winter, according to reports received here. Last winter the skins brought about $47 apiece.

Government employes took 22,027 skins from St. Paul Island, one of the Pribilof group, this year. From the other island, St. George, 3354 skins have been taken.

Fresno.—Fresno has raised $35,000 of her $60,000 quota in the fund for the Armenian refugees in Europe.

CALOMEL TODAY, SICK TOMORROW

Dose of nasty calomel makes you sick and you lose a day's work.

Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents, which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it.—Adv.

WOMAN'S NERVES MADE STRONG

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Winona, Minn.—"I suffered for more than a year from nervousness, and was so bad I could not rest at night—would lie awake and get so nervous I would have to get up and walk around and in the morning would be all tired out. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and thought I would try it. My nervousness soon left me. I sleep well and feel fine in the morning and able to do my work. I gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to make weak nerves strong."—Mrs. ALBERT SULTZE, 603 Olmstead St., Winona, Minn.

How often do we hear the expression among women, "I am so nervous, I cannot sleep," or "it seems as though I should fly." Such women should profit by Mrs. Sultze's experience and give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial.

For forty years it has been overcoming such serious conditions as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, dizziness, and nervous prostration of women, and is now considered the standard remedy for such ailments.

W. C. T. U. Notes

Campbell W. C. T. U. held its regular meeting at the pleasant home of Mrs. Hill and Miss Marshman on Wednesday afternoon. One important item of business was a unanimous vote to celebrate the Silver Anniversary of the organization of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union in Campbell with appropriate exercises and entertainment. The 15th anniversary occurs in December. A general committee was appointed who will appoint sub-committees. Reports of the recent state convention were given most entertainingly by Mr. and Mrs. Price, of College Park. One lady said at the close that it was almost like being there herself. The keynote of the convention was "Sound the Jubilee," and great enthusiasm prevailed all thru the week. There was a quiet hour when the usual tender memorial service was held, with a choice program, in loving memory of those who have been promoted to Heavenly service during the past year. The pictured faces of two of these belonging to the executive board, were upon the program—Mrs. Margaret Pelton and Miss Anna Chase.

Especial mention was made of the fine address upon "Reconstruction," by Mrs. E. L. Watson, of Santa Clara county.

A reception of babies, as White Ribbon recruits, under the direction of the state superintendent of Mother's Meetings, was exceptionally enjoyable, there being fifteen little ones, whose mothers promised to train them in the principles of purity and temperance.

Reports from all the thirty-seven departments were full of vigor and interest. The last evening a "Jubilee Pageant" was given, entitled "The Power Behind the Throne," beginning with scenes of the Woman's Crusade and continuing to the present time, with wonderful portrayals; being not only beautiful and thrilling, but historical, as well. Mr. Price told of the splendid convention, and also of the agricultural features of that section. He met men who told him how "already vinyardists there have grafted their wine grapes to table grapes and finding them profitable are assured they will grow more so, as the years go by." An enjoyable social hour followed the reports, when the hostesses served delicious refreshments, strangers were made acquainted, and hearty thanks given those who had done so much toward making the "Echo Meeting" such a pleasant and profitable affair.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. A. J. Farley, on November 12.

Library Building Proposed

The Country Woman's Club at its called meeting Monday considered several styles of buildings for a new library. After careful deliberation it was the voice of the meeting that the club recommend a building for library purposes only, with the present building to be a little enlarged and provided with a kitchen, for meetings of clubs and for social gatherings; these plans, of course, depending for fruition on the approval and financial support of the community.

It was decided to ask the attendance of the Library Association at the Improvement Club meeting, when the members of the Country Woman's Club would also be present and bring the matter before them for discussion and action.

An Afternoon in Switzerland

A large concourse of ladies of the Pundita Circle were delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. L. J. Carboni near Campbell on November 5th.

Mrs. C. W. Toles, as hostess of the day, read a short paper describing the beauties and wonders of Switzerland; its majestic mountains, the strange phenomenon of red snow, the immense tunnels and greater glaciers. Her talk was nicely illustrated by Swiss souvenirs, chief among them being an odd lamp-shade of pressed flowers on parchment, and a wedding dress of her great grandmother, an exquisite piece of Swiss embroidery representing clusters of eidelwiess and illies of the valley.

Altho Mas. Toles naively remarked that she couldn't quite take the ladies to Switzerland, the guests seemed to think the refreshments of Swiss cheese sandwiches, coffee and Swiss coffee cake, had the real Swiss flavor.

Mrs. Carboni read selections from Frances Havergall's "Swiss Letters;" and "Dawn, noon and sunset in the Alps" from the "Mountain Maiden." Sweet strains of Swiss melodies issued at intervals from the victrola.

Mrs. H. A. Watrous was the recipient of a beautiful gift of silver, which was presented by Mrs. Corning on behali of the Pundita Circle. The ladies wished to show their appreciation of Mrs. Watrous' work in the club.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Davidson, Nov. 19. Mrs. Crawford will tell the ladies of her recent trip to Seattle.

"Y" Club Organized

The men of the county who are or have been in the "Y" service, met at a "Dutch" luncheon in San Jose, Tuesday evening, and formed an organization for continued work of some kind. A committee was appointed to decide on this line of service and also to choose a name and time and place of meeting.

The following men were present: G. E. Atkinson, Frank H. Benson, J. T. Colvin, W. E. Eckles. W. S. Eldridge, J. A. Hedger, John Jury, E. A. King, A. C. Smedley and E. C. Williams, of San Jose, W. B. Gillespie, of Morgan Hill, E. H. Smith, of Santa Clara and H. C. Smith, of Campbell. From these, officers were chosen as follows: President, G. E. Atkinson; vice president, J. E. Hedger; secretary - treasurer, H. C. Smith.

It was decided to include all the "Y" service women also, and the first united activity will be in taking charge of the program at the Y. M. C. A. on the night of Armistice Day.

At Rest

The funeral services for Marcia Elnora Wilcox were held from the home of her sister, Mrs. George Whitney, Tuesday morning. After undergoing an operation at the County hospital the week before, she passed away Sunday.

She is survived by her father, H. S. Foote, two children, Rena and Eugene, and a sister, Mrs. Whitney.

A burglar, giving the name of Cliff Guilbert, was rounded up by two of Sheriff Lyle's deputies in short order. Said thief entered the new home of Walter H. Stray Wednesday evening while the family was out on a short call. When they returned and found the house mussed up the sheriff's office was phoned and the deputies put on the job. In searching a San Jose bound jitney a suspect was arrested, and search of his suitcase disclosed a number of neckties, shirts and other apparel which were easily identified as belonging to Mr. Stray. The culprit then admitted his guilt. His co worker, who stood guard outside, has not yet been located.

The funeral of T. W. Sherman was held from the parlors of Hocking & Williams, under the auspices of Charity Lodge F. & A. M. of Campbell, Thursday afternoon, interment being made at Oak Hill.

Mr. Sherman was 83 years old, and was a native of England. He came to this state in the early days, being a pioneer in Sierra county.

He is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Andrew W. Johnson, of Campbell, Mrs. Alice Quigley, of Westwood, Mrs. Anna Scott, of Brown's Valley and Mrs. G. Pratt, of San Francisco, and one son, George, in Honolulu.

Death of H. P. Fleming

Mr. Harry P. Fleming, of San Jose, died Sunday morning, and was buried from the funeral parlors of W. B. Ward Tuesday morning, the remains being laid to rest in Oak Hill cemetery.

Mr. Fleming was born in the state of Illinois, and was just in the prime of life, being but 49 years of age.

The deceased was somewhat known in Campbell, being a brother of Mrs. May F. Beardsley, Mrs. Lillie F. Shaw and the late Mrs. E. W. Allen. Beside his two sisters here, he is survived by his wife and two daughters, and two brothers, all residing in San Jose.

Locals and Personals

Miss Harriet Dumphy, of Berkeley, and Robert Dumphy, of Vallejo, spent Sunday here with their parents.

Frank Howard, who has been staying with Mr. and Mrs. Higbie since his discharge, was operated on for appendicitis Tuesday.

The Epworth League will hold one of its jolly, good time socials this Friday evening in the parlors of the church. Everybody invited.

The names of Mrs. May Beardsley and Mrs. Lillie F. Shaw have been added to the list of subscribers to the Roosevelt Memorial fund.

Clinton Crow has undergone an operation and is receiving treatment for throat trouble, at Letterman hospital. Better get home for Armistice day celebration, Clint.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Watrous and daughter will leave Monday for their new home at Gilroy. Their many friends wish them all success and will hope for for their return to this locality in the future.

Courtland Watson is planning on an auto trip to San Bernardino next week. He has been compelled to give up his work at Stanford for this term and is making this trip hoping to benefit his health as he is a sufferer from asthma.

Mrs. Hunter Portus and son Campbell, have gone south, where they may decide to remain tor the winter, and in case they find that section more to their liking the family may locate there permanently.

Born: To Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Williams, an eight pound boy, Sunday, November 2nd, and to Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Smith, of San Jose, a son, Tuesday the 4th. These boys are grandsons of Mr. Isbell, and he is naturally quite proud.

Leonard Smith is regretting the loss of his beautiful pointer, "Vic," which died Monday from poisoning. Ellis Preston lost a dog a short time ago from the same cause, so apparently there is some one in the community resorting to this dastardly means. The trouble is that it is good dogs with a home that are the victims, while the homeless ones escape.

The Methodist Harvest supper will be held next Friday evening in the church parlors, for which those attending will bring sandwiches for the family and a dish for the table. An attractive program has been arranged and the members of the congregation are cordially invited.

J. S. Fay received his new shoe-repairing machinery Wednesday, when E. C. Merrill brought it down from San Francisco by motor truck. He and Mrs. Fay were in the city over the week-end making the purchase. He is installing a modern shoe finisher, leather cutter, skiver and tap moulder, to facilitate his work.

Mrs. Sykes Passes

Mrs. H. P. Bean received word Thursday of the death of Mrs. Nannie M. Sykes at Vallejo, Tuesday, November, 4th.

Altho Mrs. Sykes had been a great sufferer for a long time, her death came quite suddenly at the very last, without any apparent pain. Mrs. Bean visited Mrs. Sykes very recently and found her cheerful and hopeful of again being able to be out of doors.

Mrs. and Miss Sykes spent so many years in Campbell that this seemed quite home to them and their friends in Campbell extend sincere sympathy to Miss Sykes in her great loss.

The brother who was with Mrs. Sykes while she was at O'Connor Sanitarium is quite ill which makes it doubly hard for Miss Abbie.

Mrs. Sykes is survived by another daughter, Mrs. N. C. Mitchell of Chicago.
